Dreferably) in hot water and remain in a warm room.

II. Bathe the face in very hot water frequently for an hour, take a little pure whiskey in hot water and go to bed. It is well to remember that the whiskey most be pure.

III. After having taken a wineglassful of pure whiskey in hot water, snuff hot sait water up the nostrils a few times. Repeat every three hours.

IV. Take some active exercise in the open air, and on entering the house take some pure medicinal whiskey and then keep warm. In using whiskey for curing a coid or any other purpose it should always be remembered that any other than absolutely pure whishey is harmful in its effects. Duffy's Pure Malt is the only reliable standard whiskey on the market. Its purity and value are vouched for by the leading doctors and scientists of the day. You can get it from your druggist or grocer. Take no substitute.

provost marshall general of Sheridan's cav-alry corps is in the hands of B. M. Melton, city assessor of Dallas, Tex., awaiting ciaim of that officer or his friends.

11. Thomas Steele of DePere, Wis., has the discharge and other papers of Charles S. Sheerin, second lieutenant company A, Soth United States colored infantry.

12. Comrade J. A. Watrous of Milwau-kee, Wis., desires the address of Captain Lowis P. Hunt, late company K, 160th New York volunteers. York volunteers. 13. J. W. Pedrick, adjutant post 23, Milford, Mass, inquires for the whereabouts of Jerome Prince, member of the same post and late company H, 15th Massachusetts volunteer infantry. 14. Comrades, we are commencing the twenty-sixth year of the civil organization of the Grand army with promising prospects, and our order is in a gratifying condition; yet, while we number almost baif a million, there is, of those who fought for the union in 1861 to 1865, at least that number without the bonds of our society. This should not, and if every comrade will make an effort, will not be so longer. Let therefore everyone constitute himself a recruiting officer, seek those comrades, who as yet have not been mustered into our ranks, place the object of our order before them, so that they may unite once more with us for the glory of our country and the Grand Army of the Republie. Let us strive to compass this end, so that all who served honorably may be com-loyalty, the cardinal principle of our order.

D. U. Quick, Asst. Adjutant General. HEADQUARTERS GRAND ARMY OF THE RE-PUBLIC, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 18, 1891.—General Orders, No. 3: 1. The following acts of the encampment, affecting the present and future administration and government of the Grand Army of the Republic, are published for the information and september of all controls of the control of th for the information and guidance of all con-

1. Future encampments shall not be held earlier than the 20th day of August.

2. Hereafter the line of march of the parade at national encampments shall not exceed a distance of more than two miles; all countermarching to be included in this dis-

3. Speeches placing comrades in nomina tion shall be limited to ten minutes, and speeches seconding such nominations shall be limited to one minute each. (Rules and regulations, page 37, section 13.) 4. The twenty-sixth national encampment shall be held in the city of Washington, in the District of Columbia. 5. Authority was conferred on the national council of administration to change the location of the national encampment, whenever in their opinion the railroads, or the hotels of the city where the encampment has been located, fall to grant such rates as are fair and reasonable for the transportation and entertainment of the comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic; provided that notice of each change be promulgated in general orders at least ninety days before the date of the convening of the encampment.

6. The national council of administration. or its executive committee, was instructed to finally conclude the arrangements for holding the twenty-sixth national encampment with no city without first securing an au-thoritative and binding assurance that suitable rooms will be furnished for the national headquarters, the headquarters of each department and of the Woman's Relief corps; and also that the hotels and boarding house at the proposed location shall not only ask no more than their regular prices of entertainment, but especially that they shall not require the payment, or a contract for the payment, for any stated time for more guests than are actually present, either as a condi-tion of securing quarters in advance or other

7. Congress to be requested to so amend the interstate commerce law as to give transportation companies authority to fix such reduced rates of transportation as shall be just 3. Comrade John Taylor of Philadelphia, > tor and representative in congress a copy of hese resolutions, and to present the same to the proper committees of congress. 8. Congress should by appropriate legisla-tion provide for the maintenance of the Grant cottage at Mount McGregor at the expense of the nation. The commander-in-chief was directed to urge upon our senators and representatives in congress such legislation and the department commander to take like action. The duty of securing the required legislation was referred to the pensich committee.

9. Section 1,754, Revised Statutes of the United States, should be so amended as to carry out the piedges of the nation to the men who fought its battles from '61 to '65. Honorable service in the union army or nav applicant for appointment under the government, when the applicant is honest and capa-ble. The duty of securing the required legislation was referred to the pension commit the "Nation's Temples of Fame." Their decoration on Memorial day should not be left to the charity of citizens, but it should be done as an act of duty by the general government in national cemeteries, wherever Grand Army posts or other organizations omit to decorate. The duty of securing the requisite legislation was referred to the pen-another $8 a month, and this encampment asks as an act of justice that all winows of soldiers who served in the war of the robellion be pensioned at $12 a month.

12. The encampment favors legislation in congress placing sailors upon the same footing as soldiers as to qualifications for citizen-sion committee, 11. There is no good reason why one sordier's widow should receive $12 a month and ship. (Amendment of Sec. 2166, Revised Statutes U. S.) 13. The encampment favors a law to pen sion union prisoners of war. Congress to be requested to cause the volumes of military service of veterans and names of veterans' widows now being propared by the census bureau to be printed and issued. In connection with this comrades are informed that the commander-in-chief has received information that the appropriation for this purpose is nearly expended, and commanders of posts and departments are in-vited to impress on members of congress the necessity of completing the work.

15. A committee to be appointed to devise plans to insure the successful inauguration of some systematic plan of teaching the lessons of loyalty to our undivided country and one fing, that the coming generation may hand down the institutions that make us deserve the words: the land of the free and the home of the brave.

16. The commander-in-chief to appoint a committee of seven members with full authority to proceed with the erection of a memorial to our late comrade, Ulysses S. Grant, in the capitol in Washington, provided that their plans shall have first received the approval of the commmander-in-chief and the executive committee of the council; and that the said committee. 17. The National Memorial Hall associa-tion, Grand Army of the Republic, before further soliciting contributions for the erection and maintenance of the proposed Memorisi hall at Decatur, is required to provide by its by-laws for an advisory board, to consist of the commander-in-chief and the department commanders of the Grand Army of the Republic, the commander-in-chief to be pres-ident; to which board the association shall make an annual report. The board to meet annually at the time and place of holding the national encampment. Said by-saws to further provide that the commander-in-chief shall, after the first year of the association, by and with the advice of his executive com mittee, nominate and appoint four members of the board of trustees of said association Said association is also required to submit to the commander in chief and his executive committee the plans for the Memorial half building for approval.
